

A musical staff with a treble clef. The staff contains 16 measures of music, divided into two groups of 8 measures by a vertical dashed line. Each measure contains a pair of notes (a dyad) with a slur above them and an upward-pointing stem. The notes are positioned on the 4th and 5th lines of the staff. The first group of 8 measures has a solid black bar underneath the notes, and the second group of 8 measures also has a solid black bar underneath the notes.
